

Apple Tree Arts Student Handbook 2021-2022

Welcome (back) to Apple Tree Arts!

Theatre and/or music training is an incredible lifetime investment for your child. The benefits of acting, playing an instrument, and singing are numerous and include:

- strengthened confidence, knowledge of self, and optimism
- greater artistic, problem-solving, and expressive skills
- increased empathy, respect for others, and ability to communicate and work with a diverse set of people
- just to name a few!

We love working together with people of all ages, identities, and abilities to help them discover what they can achieve, develop their performance skills, and grow intellectually, socially, emotionally, and artistically. Each student is different, and we strive to create a relationship with each student that allows us to meet their particular needs, learning style, and personality, and work with them toward continuous artistic growth.

We also help students prepare for endeavors including Royal Conservatory Music Development Program exams, post-secondary theatre and music program auditions, and professional performances. Let us know your goals so we can help you get the most from your time here.

We look forward to getting started!

Theatre Programs

Tuition and Payment

Tuition for theatre programs is charged per program or production. When registering online, payments can be made by automatic credit/debit card or ACH transfer from your bank account. If you would like to pay by check, please let Kathy know by emailing info@appletreearts.org.

Should something come up where you can't fulfill your financial commitment, advanced notice and open, ongoing communication is encouraged and appreciated. We will do our best to work with you.

Absences

There are no credits, make ups, or refunds for missed rehearsals or classes. This includes cancellations for family vacations, illness, school-related absences, etc. and will be strictly adhered to. Please note that this cancellation policy is consistent with those of sports teams, schools, camps, etc., all of which place a high priority on regular attendance and diligent commitment.

Withdrawal from a Program

Students who withdraw more than 30 days prior to the start of a program are eligible to receive a full refund. Students withdrawing 30 days or less before the start of a program will be eligible for a refund of 50% of the program tuition. If a student withdraws from a program after it has begun, no refund will be given. Exceptions may be made due to extenuating circumstances. Written notice to the ATA business director, Kathy Vandenengel, is required in order to withdraw from a program. If payments are being made in monthly installments, payments will continue automatically until the financial obligation as described above has been fulfilled.

Media Policy

During lessons, classes, recitals, and other events and performances, Apple Tree Arts reserves the right to use video recording and/or to take photographs of students for use in newsletters, advertising materials, social media, lesson demonstration, YouTube and/or Vimeo, ATA-owned websites, and press releases. If you'd prefer we not share photos or recordings of you or your child, please notify us in writing. At recitals and events, you are welcome to take photos and videos (and share them with us!), but please refrain from using flash photography during performances and only record your own child. Thank you!

Accessibility, Diversity & Nondiscrimination

Accessibility is an organizational asset and a civil right. Apple Tree Arts (ATA) complies with all local, state, and federal laws and regulations concerning civil and human rights. Our programs and employment practices are free of discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, age, sex, gender identity, gender expression, and disability. In addition, ATA is specifically committed to complying with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act. The ADA requires that all programs, services and activities, when viewed in their entirety, are readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities. For more information, please contact us at info@appletreearts.org .

Students, faculty, and staff have the obligation to promptly notify Apple Tree Arts management of any physical barrier to their participation in a class, program, or function in order to arrange for modifications. If classrooms, facilities, or faculty offices are found to be inaccessible, an accessible alternate location will be utilized. Absences

Have a conflict? Feeling under the weather? That doesn't mean you have to stop learning!

You have two options:

- 1) Swap lesson times. (Make sure you opt-in to our swap list at the beginning of the year so that you have this option! Students who opt-in will receive a schedule and a contact list for their teacher's other students.) If you have a one-time conflict, you can switch lessons with someone else that week. Please let the office know of any swaps.
- 2) If you can't find a swap, your teacher will use your time slot to create and send you a new assignment/practice suggestions for the week.

Still concerned about missing your lesson? Please be assured that your tuition is always working for you. Our faculty spend an incredible amount of time and money outside of lessons researching new methods and materials, attending workshops, purchasing and selecting repertoire for students, organizing and planning events, creating worksheets and games, and so much more. We guarantee that each student receives much more of our faculty's time than the 30/45/60 minutes they see them each week.

Because your monthly tuition reserves a slot in your teacher's schedule that can't be used for someone else when you're absent, there are no credits, make ups, or refunds for canceled or missed lessons. If you'd like to read more about our reasoning behind this policy, we recommend Make-Up Lessons from an Economist's Point of View.

Teacher Lesson Cancellations

If your lesson is cancelled due to teacher absence, a make-up lesson will be provided. Make ups not taken by the end of the session will be forfeited.

Discontinuing Lessons

Enrolling in lessons reserves your lesson time for the full 10-week session. However, we understand that everyone stops taking lessons at some point. The decision to end lessons should be made with careful consideration, with discussion between parent, student, and teacher so that lessons can end positively. A 30 day written notice to the ATA business director, Kathy Vandenengel, is required in order to stop tuition payments. If payment has already been received in full, a refund or credit will be issued for the portion of the session remaining after the 30 days notice period.
